

Copyright compliance made easy for German companies

In this electronic age, organizations need to make it simple for employees to lawfully exchange digital content and efficiently manage copyright compliance. Clearing permissions on an individual basis from thousands of German and International rightsholders can prove quite challenging.

Your copyright challenges

- Storing copies of articles in a product literature database
- Submitting supporting articles to government agencies as required as part of regulatory or patent filings
- Emailing a PDF of a journal article to a colleague in connection with a collaborative project you are working on together

As technology continues to simplify the way workers find and exchange information, we provide a a trusted licensing solution that provides a simple and efficient way for employees to collaborate compliantly using published content.

By implementing the VG WORT Digital Copyright License, we are able to support international collaboration using scientific information from a wide variety of publications and ensure global copyright compliance across Merck locations worldwide."

The VG WORT Digital Copyright License — for all the ways you work

Email a PDF of a journal article to a colleague in conjunction with a collaborative project you are working on together

Host a competitive intelligence collaboration site for project teams that includes news articles, published literature, press releases, market reports, and other content related to direct competitors

Embed a PDF of a recent article about the company into an internal company newsletter or post it to the company's intranet site for employee awareness

Use portions of a work in an internal presentation at a company meeting or in an employee education program

Store a copy of a purchased article on the company intranet for use by a project team

Store the full text of an article to substantiate claims made in promotional materials in the same system that was used to develop, manage, and approve the content

Annotate and store copies of scientific articles related to known adverse events of a company product in an internal database which is used by a small team in connection with the company's regulatory compliance obligations

Scan printed works into digital form when an electronic version of the work is not readily available

Annotate and submit supporting articles to a government agency as required as part of a regulatory or patent filing

Share a PDF version of a recent newspaper article about the company in a briefing to the company's Board of Directors

Share an article with a client who requests more information about a product or service on an unsolicited basis*

The license provides permission and allows users to lawfully reuse content across borders in several ways

Note: The VG WORT Digital Copyright License is generally intended to permit the reuse of articles on a periodic, non-systematic basis with other people within an organization. It is not meant to replace subscriptions that you or other people in the organization need in the ordinary context of your work. The license also does not cover the external display of copies on mobile devices as part of the user's systematic sales or marketing activities.

*Applicable to most German publications, as well as many non-German publications, in the repertory.
